

Slideshow

21st Century Parenting: Gadgets and Gizmos that Make It Easier!

Send

BACK

Photo 6 of 6

Gadgets for Soon-to-be-Mommies

The Last Big Breakthrough: Starting in your 24th week of pregnancy, KickTrak can monitor your baby's movement and track his progress as he develops.

The Latest Thing: Are you already imagining your baby's college career? Overachieving moms don't let Baby's unborn status delay his intellectual development; learning can start in the womb. BabyPlus is a prenatal educator that teaches Baby with sound and rhythm lessons.

Almost-Mommy Must-Have: Your body is changing daily, and clothes that used to be just right are now too tight and small. Instead of pulling on waistbands and stretching out fabrics, try bottomsUp; these stretchy fabric bands hide discreetly under clothing, keeping your belly covered and your pants up.

BACK